

Dear Friends,

It is my first thought I am going to share with you.

On this New Year, our resolution should be to face our challenges with courage and confidence. We need to spread love and affection among our dear members, to lead a life of success and victory.

Remember, Team work is very much necessary to build up the confidence, trust among the members and office bearers. Power is not something to control all - power is strength and we need to give that strength to others.

At the end, wish you a Great, prosperous, Healthy New Year 2017.

Shyam Vir Singh
